Project Description/Justification:

The Facility Construction component within the Division of Water provides technical and financial support to Alaska's communities to design and construct sanitation (water, wastewater and solid waste) facilities. Communities apply each year to the State for grants for these projects. Applications are scored weighing primarily on the extent to which proposed projects address critical public health needs, as well as the communities' capacity to operate and maintain the facilities. Grants are awarded to the communities with the highest ranking projects. The majority of project awards made under this program are eligible for grant funds made available to the state through the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Rural Development, the Denali Commission, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the Indian Health Service program. A portion of the federal grant monies available require the state to appropriate matching funds.

Each year communities propose more projects than the State has funding available. When projects are proposed, total costs are estimated based on the best information available but are subject to change. Balances in completed projects may be shifted to augment other projects that were underestimated or, applied to other approved projects on the waiting list. Individual projects are given a title which characterizes the work to be completed based on the best information available at the time. These titles are as general as possible to allow for future adjustments within the overall appropriation's stated purposes.
